Become an author in three simple steps.

Self-publishing has become popular overnight. See us as your personal support system to make it happen. Affordable, reliable and fast services now make it possible to transform your concept into published literature.

STEP 1. DEVELOP A UNIQUE CONCEPT

There's a story inside you just waiting to come out. If this is true for you, now is the time to turn your idea into reality. Leave your legacy behind and inspire others. Whether your story is a diamond in the rough that needs lots of polishing, or if you already have a completed manuscript, Nectar is passionate about new authors on the rise.

STEP 2. BOOK PRODUCTION

Partnering with Nectar means we can coordinate your book's process from concept to finished product. Nectar's network of talented writers, editors and translators is equipped to provide excellent service. Nectar is a hybrid publisher, combining a traditional publishing house with print-on-demand technology.

STEP 3. TARGET MARKETING

We can analyze your book's position and devise the best media strategy to get your work connected to your reading audience. Let us distribute your book for you in local bookstores and on international platforms such as Amazon and Barnes & Nobles.

Nectar Grants promote life long learning

Nectar is dedicated to seeing that children receive educational enrichment at an early age. With the help of sponsors, we are able to develop and offer books for young readers and educational material to supplement cognitive development. Nectar offers support to teachers and childcare professionals to incorporate fun reading programs and creative writing activities. Recognizing youth who display academic achievement and good citizenship is key in cultivating excellence. We applaud childcare centers who are proactive in early childhood stimulation programs. Educators and childcare professionals are welcome to check our website for the available stimulus grant programs we offer periodically.
